

Advanced Search

Using Google within a site.

Why?

Some sites (such as Queensland Archives) have an internal search engine that does not find every relevant document on the site.

Google Advanced Search is not selective. If it can see a file, it lists it.

A search bar is present with a microphone icon. Below the search bar are two buttons: 'Google Search' and 'I'm Feeling Lucky'. A red arrow points from the search bar area to a dropdown menu that is open, listing options: 'Search settings', 'Advanced search', 'History', 'Search Help', and 'Send feedback'. At the bottom of the page, there are links for 'Advertising', 'Business', and 'About' on the left, and 'Privacy & Terms' and 'Settings' on the right.

Caution

Sometimes ArchiveSearch does not “find” a file because the website cannot present it to you neatly in an easy-to-read form.

Google assumes that you understand the file may be messy and that you want it any way. Watch out for text files (.txt) that are large and have little formatting.

The screenshot shows a Google search interface. The search bar contains the text "tuttle site:www.archives.qld.gov.au". Below the search bar, the "Web" tab is selected. The search results show 7 results in 0.26 seconds. The first result is a table with columns: NAME, Given Names, Type, Date, Page, Item ID, Prev, and ... The table contains two rows of data. A blue arrow points to the first row of the table.
