Nineteenth Century British Library Newspapers (parts I and II)

Type	website
Publisher	Gale Cengage Learning
Description	The 19th Century British Library newspapers collection contains full runs of 48 national, regional and local newspapers. Titles were specially selected by the British Library to best represent nineteenth century Britain, from business to sport, from politics to entertainment and the arts. The collection focuses on newspapers from London, the English regions, home country newspapers from Scotland, Northern Ireland and Wales, and titles in specialist areas such as Victorian radicalism and Chartism. Titles were selected to reflect the social and political developments of the times in which they were published. The original collection was augmented by the release of Part II, which includes an additional 22 regional newspapers, further expanding the geographical, social and political range of titles available. Cross searchable with other Gale products via the Gale NewsVault. Available for document delivery to Australian libraries.

First issued on 7 January 1831, The Essex Standard was published each Friday at a price of 7d. Conservative in orientation, its first issue proclaimed it was to be "...a Standard around which the loyal, the religious, and the well-affected of our County may rally." The newspaper was at first printed in Chelmsford, but was acquired by John Taylor in September 1831 and thereafter printed in Colchester.

Issue no. 189 of 15 August 1834 has four pages of seven columns per page. It was published by John Taylor, Jr and Henry Thomas Riddell. Page three mentions the building of the Marquis of Bristol's seat at Ickworth, has a cricket report, and an article in the "Le Melange" heading offers the insight from The Frankfort Journal that the fields of Baden are overrun with 20,000 mice. Page four offers a brief description of "Mrs. Trollope's Visit to a Belgian Farmhouse".

ESSEX ASSIZE.—The Spring Assize for this county is fixed to be opened at Chelmsford on Friday, March 17.

ESSEX ADJOURNED SESSION.—The Adjourned Quarter Session for the county of Essex will be opened on Tuesday next, the 22nd inst. There are at present eleven prisoners for trial, charged as under:—

located, but Smith evidently desired to get Brady outside, in order to give him an opportunity of attempting an escape, and, on being foiled in his endeavours, struck the officer a violent blow on the head. He was consequently taken into custody also, and yesterday was charged with assaulting the constable in the execution of his duty, and remanded to the Session on Friday. Brady was allowed to be out on bail, himself in £10 and one surety in a like amount.

CHELMSFORD PETTY SESSION, FEB. 11.—Before the Hon. A. Petre, in the chair; and J. A. C. Tabor, Esq.—In the case of James Gaywood, who had been summoned for game trespass on land of Mr. W. J. Beadel, of Springfield, Mr. F. A. Jones who had been instructed by Mr. Beadel to prosecute, said the prosecutor was satisfied with the assurances which had been given him that the offence would not occur again, and that really there was not so much blame attaching to the defendant as he at first imagined. Therefore, by leave of the Bench, he wished to withdraw from the information.—The summons was withdrawn accordingly.—Richard Dines, labourer, was charged with stealing three cabbages, the property of Messrs. W. and H. Marriage and Sons, at Writtle Park, his employers, at Writtle, on the 29th January.—Mr. Marriage said there had been so many cabbages stolen from his farm that he was obliged to make an example of prisoner. Still the value was very slight in this particular case, and he hoped the Bench would deal leniently with him.—Prisoner elected to be dealt with summarily by the Justices, and he was sentenced to 14 days' hard labour.
